

From the Editors

We are delivering a new issue of a journal published by Andrzej Frycz Modrzewski Kraków University, Studia Prawnicze: Rozprawy i Materiały. Beginning with 2014, the formula of the magazine has slightly changed, and we have been entrusted with the mission to develop it further. Our first decisions result from the eagerness to make it more international, hence we not only proposed to increase the emphasis on the English name of the periodical, but we have also extended our Editorial Board. It was recently joined, among others, by Tommaso Edoardo Frosini, Stephen Riley, Mary Tzanou and Vincenzo Zeno-Zencovich. Hoping that our concept of Studia will win your recognition, we do encourage you to acquaint yourselves with the content and submit your papers, which we are keen to publish. In our publishing activity, we will focus predominantly on scientific works written in English and Polish, believing that in this way we will manage to reach out to broad circles of recipients.
